Work Location: ICRC Headquarters, Geneva
Duration: 1 Year (July 2021 – June 2022)*
Eligibility: Penultimate/Final year undergraduate students or
Full time taught postgraduate students

 Selected candidate must be available to assume duties on July 1, 2021 until June 30, 2022*

Background:

The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) is a neutral and independent international humanitarian organization whose mission is to assist victims of armed conflict and other violence, protect people's dignity, and prevent suffering by promoting and strengthening international humanitarian law and humanitarian principles. The ICRC has been working closely with Red Cross and Red Crescent Partners to save as many lives as possible.

The partnership between HKU Business School and the ICRC aims to provide students with opportunity to gain working experience in an international humanitarian organization, to broaden one's horizons, and to explore possibilities in their lives.

Objectives:

- Provide HKU Business School students with practical working experience in an international humanitarian organization
- Encourage business actors operating in conflict-affected areas to develop responsible business practices

Eligibility:

Applicants should be the HKU Business School penultimate/final year undergraduate or full time taught postgraduate students who fulfill the following criteria as prescribed by the ICRC:

- Academic merits (cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above at the time of application)
- A demonstrated interest in international affairs and diplomacy, humanitarian issues and the ICRC
- Ability to think strategically, to express ideas clearly, both orally and in writing, and to work both independently and as part of a team
- Experience with client-oriented work and external relations, and ability to easily interface with high-level stakeholders

- Experience in developing communications, marketing or business development strategies
- Flexibility and the ability to deliver high-quality results under time pressure
- Capacity for research and analytical writing, high level of attention to detail
- Creativity and a capacity to think outside the box and to generate ideas and initiatives
- An excellent command of English, and good capacity in Mandarin and/or Cantonese is an asset*
- A demonstrated interest in ‘business and human rights’ or ‘business and conflict’ issues
- Available for 1 year from July 1, 2021 until June 30, 2022

Post holder will be required to liaise with mainland stakeholders, and therefore conversational mandarin and the ability to read and write Chinese is expected.*

Job Description:

Under the supervision of the Economic Adviser and with a special emphasis on Asian affairs and on Asian companies operating across the world, the post holder will be responsible for:

- Assisting in the day-to-day management of various work streams such as: a joint project with the Geneva Centre for Security Sector Governance (DCAF); the ICRC’s engagement with Chinese business actors and engagement with organisations such as the World Economic Forum, the United Nations Global Compact, and various other stakeholders in the business and conflict field.
- Fostering internal and external communication on the mission and activities of the Economic Adviser and shaping the unit’s communication and engagement strategy.
- Keeping close watch on trends, issues and policy developments in the fields of ‘business and human rights’ and ‘business and conflict’; and regularly producing synthetic oral and written analysis.
- Carrying out ad hoc research work on ongoing work streams, supporting the development of projects.
- Liaising with a wide-range of internal and external stakeholders to ensure smooth running of the various work streams and proper positioning of the ICRC.
- Preparing and coordinating participation by ICRC stakeholders in conferences, seminars or workshops involving business actors, including compiling briefing materials and talking points.
- Developing an overview of the ICRC’s relationship with the private sector, and the capacity to participate constructively in a range of related work streams including responsible investment.
- Ensuring business continuity in absence of the Economic Adviser.
- Responding upon request to other specific professional requests from partner units at the ICRC such as the Policy Division.

Remuneration and Benefits:

- Basic salary: CHF3,000 per month x 13
- Approximately CHF500 per month (including tax, unemployment benefit, the employee's contribution to social security and the pension required by the Swiss Law) will be deducted directly from the basic monthly salary.
- The post holder will be required to cover their own medical insurance expenses in Switzerland (estimated: CHF65-100 per month).
- After the deduction of the tax and medical insurance, the post holder will receive approximately CHF2,400 per month (CHF3,000 – 500 – 100) subject to the final discretion of ICRC.

13th Month Salary:

- The 13th month salary will be credited to the post holder's bank account in the 6th month (CHF 1,500) and 12th month (CHF 1,500) of the employment period.
- The 13th month salary is also subject to tax and other social security deductions.

Annual leaves:

The post holder is entitled to 20 annual leave days on top of the public holidays in Geneva.

Others:

With the employment of the ICRC, the post holder can have access to the language training courses offered by the United Nations, e.g. French, Spanish, Arabic, and others. The course is at the own cost of the trainee and optional. The course fee is approximately CHF1,200 for 2 semesters (9 months in total).

Selection Process

Selection will be conducted in 2 stages:

Initial Screening*: It will be conducted by HKU Business School.

*Screening will be done according to students' CGPA, participation in ECA, work experience, and the passion for pursuing the opportunity as indicated in the essay. Only shortlisted students will be invited to selection interview as conducted by the HKU Business School Selection Committee.

Final Screening: It will be conducted by ICRC in the format of written test and interview. Final results will be announced by the end of February.

Other Important Information:

1. Accommodation Arrangement:

The post holder will be responsible for their own expenses in Geneva, including accommodation. Many trainees sublet rooms ('sous-location'), but be aware of the terms before signing up for such housing. Prices for a room in a shared flat on the open market range from about CHF700-1200 a month.
